

Panel Discussion: From the Launch Pad to the Board Room

October 11, 2018

1. Is the new space industry relying too much on young professional enthusiasm and not paying attention to the long term work-life balance?
2. For Andy Aldrin: your dad has been a promoter of going to Mars, and not back to the moon. How did he feel about Moon Express?
3. Are universities and institutions reaching out to middle/high school development?
4. Virtual gaming competition in a space environment for kids? Comments?
